Come on inland and enjoy rewarding career & business opportunities, more time with friends and family, and the great outdoors.

The Northern Inland region of NSW is a unique part of Australia strategically located half-way between Sydney and Brisbane.

The region is home to the major cosmopolitan centres of Tamworth and Armidale as well as great towns like Inverell, Moree, Gunnedah, Narrabri, Tenterfield and Glen Innes. With affordable housing, a wide range of employment opportunities, great schools, a regional university, no traffic and plenty of room to grow, why not come on inland to see how good life can be? Click a specific town or city in the right column for more detailed information.

The Northern Inland region hosts a range of industries including agriculture, agri-business, aviation, manufacturing and processing, mining, natural resources development, tourism, transport and distribution, education and training, engineering and construction, information technology, and research and development. Away from the bigger centres, there are stunning National Parks and wide open stretches of country to explore. The diversity of our region has its own appeal and offers something for everyone.
